THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 16

A MAGNIFICENT CABINET.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat suggests that General Sheridan, if elected, could make up a magnificent cabinet and appoint some first class foreign ministers, and names the following:

Secretary of State—Roscoe Conkling, of New York.

Secretary of the Treasury—John Sherman, of Ohio.

Secretary of War—Benjamin Harrison, of Indiana.

Secretary of the Navy—Joseph R. Hawley, of Connecticut.

Secretary of the Interior—William B. Allison, of Iowa.

Attorney General—George F. Edmunds, of Vermont.

Postmaster General—George W. Childs, of Pennsylvania.

Minister to England—James G. Blaine, of Maine.

Minister to France—William M. Evarts, of New York.

Minister to Germany—John B. Henderson, of Missouri.

That would certainly make a splendid cabinet—one of brains and of commanding character—and the three principal European courts would likewise have in them representative Americans who would challenge the respect of all Europe.

But whoever is elected president on the republican ticket, there is no likelihood that such a cabinet will be formed. Seven such men as named by the Globe-Democrat have never been found in any cabinet at one time since the government began. Washington had a strong cabinet at first, having in it such men as Hamilton, Jefferson, Randolph, and Pickering, but it did not hold together. John Quincy Adams had a splendid cabinet in which were Henry Clay, James Barbour, John McLean, afterwards justice of the supreme court, and William Wirt. There were fewer changes in Adam's cabinet than in the cabinet of any other president from Washington to Cleveland, and this fact made his cabinet an exceptionally strong one Lincoln's first cabinet was a strong one because it had at one time three conspicuously great men in it—Seward, Chase and Stanton. There was no one time at which Grant's cabinet was noted for special ability. Hayes's cabinet was subject to fewer changes than that of any other president since John Quincy Adams, and there were two men distinguished for great learning and broad statesmanship, who served the four years and did the country almost matchless service—John Sherman and William M. Evarts.

It will be hardly possible to find seven such men to go in the cabinet as the Globe-Democrat names, for the reason that they cannot afford to sacrifice personal interests to do so. A cabinet minister gets only $8,000 a year, but it will cost him nearly four times that to maintain the dignity of the position. As a rule, men of brains are not millionaires, and cannot afford to throw away their money to accommodate the public.

ABOUT HISSING A WOMAN.

On last Sunday afternoon Sam Small, of Georgia, who sometimes is called "Rev.", delivered an address on temperance in Chickering hall, New York. He had a splendid subject and a magnificent audience. Mr. Small talked for an hour and a half, and all who have heard him or have read some of his addresses reported verbatim, can well judge of the peculiar character of his sayings. He uses a great deal of slang, bordering on vulgarity. He has learned to do this from Mr. Sam Jones. It does not make any difference whether Small is speaking on so grave and important a subject as temperance, or whether he is discoursing on the solemn and sacred question of religion, slang still finds a prominent place in his addresses.

His Sunday afternoon address was so full of slang and was so unsuited to the time and subject, that when he finished, a well-dressed woman, perhaps thirty-five years old, with an earnest face and modest manner, arose from her seat in the rear of the hall and attempted to address some words to the platform. The audience, which was large and demonstrative, was just then calling for some favorite speaker on the platform and the shouts and clapping of hands made it impossible to catch her opening words. A few people near the woman began to hiss, and then the crowd became aware of the situation and remained silent just long enough to hear these words spoken clearly and firmly: "If Mr. Small would use less vulgarity and less slang——" But when the audience, or at least a large portion of the people present, heard the rebuke which was coming from the woman's lips, they began an uproar which completely drowned her voice and her words were lost.

The plucky little woman attempted to say something about Christ's service, but the audience, assembled in the name of the temperance cause, did not want to hear her, and began to hiss and shout, "Put her out!" "Choke her off!" and such like remarks. We read that the scribes and the Pharisees used very much the same language toward Jesus and the twelve, that the Chickering hall audience used toward this good woman who wanted Sam Small to talk for Christ and temperance, and not shock the moral and religious sense of decent people by filling his address with vulgarity and slang.

The state encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, is in session in Milwaukee. From the adjutant general's report it appears that the receipts for the past fiscal year have been $4,257.22, distributed as follows: Cash on hand, $595.82 sale of supplies, $1,226.85; per capita tax, $2,123.45; refunded, $1.50. Against this the disbursements fit up to $4,257.22, including a balance on hand of $844.37, made up of $250 of last year's balance and some $600 the result of practical economy. New posts have been organized and mustered in at Kenosha, Poysippi, Rhinelander, Mindora, Bangor, Cataract, Loyal, Prairie Farm, Trimbelle, Ogdensburg, Milwaukee, Oshkosh, Abnapee, Shell Lake, and Verona. The posts at Necedah and Boyd have lapsed. Eight other posts are in arrears, two of them at Hortonville and Hayward not having reported for many terms, despite repeated and emphatic "punchers," as the brokers and railway people have it. The total membership in good standing at this date is 10,973, a net gain of 946.

When Senator Hawley addressed the senate on the Blair educational bill, he said, among other things: "In my judgment, this bill, glorious as the cause is, fascinating as the arguments in favor of education always are, is a bill creeping into control interests which, from Plymouth rock up to this day, have been under local control, and wisely so. It is a bill to promote mendicancy; to cultivate beggars. It is a bill declaring the failure of local self-government in one of the supreme interests of the people. It falsely declares the bankruptcy of states which, before our very eyes, and rich and growing. It is not for eight years; it is the beginning of a permanent policy—of a permanent new relation between the federal government are the states. It never will go back; and never will diminish, but its influence will grow. I hope the bill will be defeated." The bill passed the senate two years ago by 25 majority, and on Wednesday by 10 majority. The hope is that it will be defeated in the house.

Suppose there should be several days' balloting for president in the republican national convention, and then an Ingersoll should arise and in a whirlwind of eloquence propose the name of Robert T. Lincoln, what might happen? Think of it.—Chicago Journal.

Guess Ingersoll will not do that. Nobody wants him to do it. He made one speech twelve years ago and almost immortalized himself thereby, and then went back on his subject. That kind of "whirlwind eloquence" in Mr. Ingersoll, is too much like the reform of this administration. It is too thin.

Republican politicians are in Washington from a number of southern states on a campaign mission, claiming there is a change of the states they come from going for the republican presidential candidate. The southern states which some of these pilgrims think ought to be looked after are Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina and Tennessee. They are confident there has been a wonderful change of sentiment on account of the tariff, and that if campaigns are vigorously waged in the states mentioned, all of them will go republican next fall.

The Evening Wisconsin calls attention to the fact that "the division in the democratic ranks in Louisiana has not abated interest in election matters. The sixth assassination of the campaign has been recorded, and the list will undoubtedly be larger before the polls close. An election in Louisiana without a baker's dozen of murders would be something worthy of record."

We rather suspect that the reason the democrats and mugwumps do not like Mr. Blaine's letter is that it opens their eyes so they can see what is coming next fall. And not only that, but they can read between the lines as clearly as if it were printed in bold-face type that Blaine will be in the coming canvass as a worker with the rank and file, and that means that the democrats will have to take for the woods.

It is pretty hard to please the eastern mugwump press. It constantly grumbled because Blaine, according to its way of looking at things, was a candidate. Now it is really mad because he has written a letter declining to be a candidate.

It seems that Milwaukee will not get its appropriation for a public building this year. The bill passed the senate, but will get mired in the house. This is because Milwaukee has no representative in congress.

Special to the Gazette.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., February 16—A fire broke out on Washington and Eddy streets, this city at an early hour this morning, and is still raging, but is thought to be under control. The high wind carried sparks a long distance, and scores of smaller fires were started. The loss is very heavy.

OLD HEROES MEET.

Annual Encampments of Grand Army Men in Illinois and Wisconsin—Reports of Officers—Candidates for the Commandership in Both States.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 16.—The annual encampment of the G. A. R., department of Illinois, began here yesterday morning. There was a grand parade, the veterans marching to the State-house, where the encampment was formally opened. The hotels are filled with old soldiers and candidates. The interest of the delegates is centered in the election for Department Commander. The candidates are Colonel James A. Sexton, of Chicago; W. L. Distor, of Quincy, and Captain A. D. Cashwallader, of Lincoln. Sexton's friends claim he will be elected on first ballot. General Rea, the National Commander-in-Chief, will be here to-day.

The session of the department was held in the hall of the House, with closed doors. The proposition to make Springfield the permanent meeting place of the department was declared out of order by Commander Sweetzer. General H. H. Thomas offered a resolution that a per capita tax of ten cents be levied to raise funds to erect a Logan monument at Washington, the surplus raised above the per capita, if any, to be devoted to the Logan monument in Chicago. This was adopted. Over 100 nominations were made for delegates to the National encampment at Columbus, O., next September. Comrade Carter, from John Brown Post, No. 50, presented a memorial asking that the monument proposed by Senator Hoar to be erected to the colored soldiers be erected in Chicago. It went through unanimously. The remainder of the proceedings were of a routine nature. A concert, musical programme, speech by Governor Oglesby and dancing in the rotunda of the State House finished the day's festivities. The revised pension bill, or bill to give all surviving soldiers and sailors a pension of $8 a month, will undoubtedly be brought up to-day and indorsed, as the feeling seems to be strong in its favor.

WISCONSIN GRAND ARMY.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Feb. 16.—The first day's session of the Department of Wisconsin G. A. R., which assembled here yesterday, was well attended, and although routine business was the order, matters of much interest were brought to the fore. Commander Griffin's address, which was quite lengthy, reviewed the organization's history and progress during the past year.

The Adjutant Quartermaster's report shows that the administration of the present year started in with a cash balance of $595.82, and has now cash on hand $844.37, a gain of $248.85, and a gain over the record of the previous year of $864.58. The net gain in membership during the year was 946. The present total membership is about 11,000. The race for Department Commander is between E. F. Bryant, of La Crosse, and A. O. Weissert, of Milwaukee.

ALBERT IS WELL SATISFIED.

He Knows Enough to Quit on His Last Great Pedestrian Achievement.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Pedestrian Albert, who broke the record last week in the six-day walking match, has been challenged by Rowell, the English pedestrian, whose record Albert smashed. When asked by a reporter what action he proposed to take in reference to the challenge, which was for a six-day match for £300 a side, Mr. Albert smiled and said: "I promised my wife and friends that this should be my last race, win or lose. I have won and I propose to retire on my record of 621 miles. Rowell will never make a good race. I have it from friends in England that he has made the best races he can ever hope to make, and there would be no object for me to run with him."

Seymour's Majority Is Small.

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 16.—Revised figures from the Eleventh district gave Seymour a plurality of 249. The district is liable to vary as much as 1,800 votes from the first returns, so there is considerable doubt of the final result. Democrats who have watched the contest claim that Seymour's small majority is a defeat for protection, and that Michigan is getting into line for Cleveland next year.

Alger for President.

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 16.—A "Russell A. Alger" Club was organized last night by 500 of the leading young Republicans and business men of the city for the purpose of booming General Alger for the Presidential nomination at the Chicago convention. The organization will be extended throughout the State and the club expects to send a solid Alger delegation to the convention.

Call for the Iowa State Convention.

DES MOINES, Ia., Feb. 16.—The Republican State Central Committee met yesterday and practically decided to call the State convention for March 21. Definite action was postponed, however, until to-day, pending the receipt of information from Senator Allison as to his wishes in the matter.

Billings Refused a Change.

WAVERLY, Ia., Feb. 16.—The motion of M. E. Billings, indicted for murder in the first degree for the killing of Henry Kingsley, pleaded not guilty Wednesday, and filed a petition for a change of venue, which was refused. The trial is set for Friday, February 17.

CORBIN IS DEFIANT.

Reading's President on the Witness-Stand.

HE TELLS THE STORY OF THE STRIKE.

He Declares That None of the Railroad Strikers Will Be Given Work So Long as He Is at the Helm—Other Statements.

AN INTERESTING WITNESS.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 16.—The Congressional Committee appointed to investigate the Reading strike met in this city yesterday morning and examined Austin Corbin. Mr. Corbin said that the capitalization stock of the Reading system was $50,000,000. He was president of the Reading railroad, but not of the Reading Coal & Iron Company. Mr. Corbin admitted that the Reading road was engaged in inter-State commerce, and that the Reading Railroad Company owned all the stock of the Reading Coal & Iron Company. He gave the history of the present strike. He said the whole trouble arose from the refusal of the Knights of Labor to handle freight sent to the Reading system from mines where there was a strike in progress—the Lehigh region—and in which strike their organization was engaged, or to move goods which came from firms which employed non-union labor. In speaking of the strikers who refused to come back when they were given an opportunity on Tuesday, December 27, after the Knights had ordered them out, Mr. Corbin said: "In this way there were about 2,000 men laid off the rolls, and none of them shall come back while I am president of the road."

Mr. Corbin then proceeded with the question of the strike of the miners which followed, and which, he claimed, was caused by the sympathy of the latter with the railroad employes. The miners, he said, had no reason or any disposition to complain, and would not have gone on the strike but for the pressure of the Knights of Labor upon them from Philadelphia. He explained the contract under which miners' wages were paid, and said that the 8 per cent advance was to continue until January 1 if the strike in the Lehigh region was not settled. Mr. Corbin denied, in answer to questions, that there had been any private agreement with the miners which was not in their written contract, to the effect that if the Lehigh strike went on the 8 per cent. advance would be paid. In concluding this part of his statement Mr. Corbin said: "We are and have been willing to take up the question of readjustment of wages if the men will return to work, but we will not treat with them while they are out. We can fill the places of the striking miners in ten days if the new men can be protected. Up in the mining districts big men, with clubs and pistols, are violently keeping not only other men, but boys who desire to earn a living and keep from starving, away from the mines and the breakers. We have been compelled to protect the 5,000 men now at work by police and constables under county officers, the expense of which we will be compelled to pay." He said, however, that he would not discharge any of the new men when the strikers returned to work.

The witness pronounced the stories of a combination of the coal companies all over the coal country to keep up prices pure romance. There was absolutely no agreement or concert of action. There was a board to furnish statistics of the output each year and estimates for the next year. That was absolutely all.

In another branch of the inquiry Mr. Corbin was asked: "How about the claim that the railroad company has made money at the expense of the consumers and of the miners and laborers?" He replied: "The best answer I can make to that is that the Reading Railroad Company, with paid capital of $40,000,000, has been twice a bankrupt in twelve years." He said the company continued to mine coal because it could not dispose of the coal lands, but in time he thought they would pay.

Truett then went up-stairs and shot himself in the head, from the effects of which his death is expected every moment. Mrs. Truett may recover. The shooting was the result of jealousy.

CENTRALIA, Ill., Feb. 16.—A horrible accident occurred yesterday morning at 10 o'clock at the railroad crossing on the Ohio & Mississippi railroad a few hundred yards west of Shattuc. A VICTORY FOR BLAIR.

His Educational Bill Passed by the Senate.

THE AUTHOR CLOSES THE DEBATE.

He Charges the Jesuits with Trying to Destroy the Common School System—The Fisheries Dispute Settled—The Inland Waterways.

IN THE SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The Senate yesterday passed the Blair Educational bill by a vote of 30 to 29. Senator Blair closed the debate on the bill. He charged that the principal opposition to the bill came from the Jesuits. After the passage of the measure by the Senate at the last session, and while it was struggling in the hands of the packed House committee that finally strangled it, a Senator had shown to him the original letter of a Jesuit priest, begging a member of Congress to oppose the bill and to kill it. The writer said that there was an organization all over the country for the destruction of the bill, and they would destroy it inevitably. Twelve years ago, when he was a member of the House, and while a proposition was pending to prevent the appropriation of public money for the support of sectarian schools, a friend of his pointed out to him nine Jesuits on the floor of the House log-rolling against that proposition. These were not (he thanked God) the Catholic church. Against the great Catholic organization of the country he would say nothing, for he venerated that great organization which, in his belief, was the true exemplar of Christianity. But within that organization was a Jesuit organization which had set out to control this country by destroying the public-school system. The Jesuits had been expelled from the countries of the old world, and the time would come when the question of their expulsion from this country would have to be considered.

All through the North (God only knew under what influences) the newspapers had opposed the bill and had argued that such aid to common schools was no longer needed, but he had for three or four days read of demonstrations from every State in the South showing that it was still a necessity, and as much so as ever. He claimed that the reason the measure was opposed by the press was because there was on the staff of every great newspaper in the country a Jesuit whose business it was to see that a blow was struck, whenever there was an opportunity to strike it, at the common-school system of America, and the further investigation was carried in that direction the more patent would the fact appear. There was another power, he said, arrayed against the bill—the power of the liquor interest as represented by its Washington organ, the Sentinel. The time was not far distant when the American people would have trush from that gallery (pointing to the reporters' gallery), or they will clear that gallery.

The Senate then proceeded to vote on the bill and amendments.

Senator Plumb (Kan.) offered an amendment providing that the money should be annually divided among the several States and Territories and the District of Columbia in proportion to their population between the ages of 10 and 21 as shown by the census. Rejected—yeas, 21; nays, 48.

Senator Berry (Ark.) moved to amend by striking out of section 4 the portion that requires the Governor of a State or Territory to file with the Secretary of the Interior a statement showing the common-school system in force, the amount of money expended during the preceding school year, etc. Rejected—yeas, 25; nays, 44.

Senator Berry then moved to strike out the twelfth section, which prescribes the condition of the second and subsequent allotments. Rejected—yeas, 24; nays, 45.

The bill was then passed—yeas, 30; nays, 29. Those voting in the negative were:

Aldrich,	Frye,	Plumb,
Bate,	Gray,	Reagan,
Beck,	Hale,	Sabin,
Blackburn,	Harris,	Saulsbury,
Bodgett,	Hawley,	Spooner,
Butler,	Hiscock,	Turpie,
Coke,	Ingalls,	Vest,
Davis,	Jones (Nev.)	Voorhees,
Farwell,	Kenna,	Wilson (Md.)—9.
Faulkner,	Morgan,

The announcement of the result of the vote was greeted with some applause. Senator Berry made a personal explanation, saying that he was opposed to the bill, but voted for it because he had promised to do so while a candidate for Senator.

Senator Daniel (Va.) presented the credentials of John S. Barbour, elected to the Senate of Virginia for six years from March 4, 1889. Ordered on file.

After an executive session the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Resolutions of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce were presented in the House yesterday urging the Pacific coast delegation in Congress to use all possible means to defeat any action which contemplates a change in the present duty on sugar and the establishment of a bounty system.

The House Committee on Public Buildings favorably reported the bills for public buildings at Milwaukee, Wis., and Bay City, Mich. The Milwaukee building is to cost $250,000.

The House Military Committee made a favorable report on the bill for the payment of $100 to solders who enlisted under the act of July 22, 1861, and who were discharged by reason of surgeon's certificate of disability or by promotion before the expiration of two years, and who have not received $100 bounty. The report was referred to the committee of the whole.

While the House was in committee of the whole on the Urgent Deficiency bill Mr. Burnes (Mo.) charged that under the present system of paying of judicial expenses the man who was most unscrupulous, fleetest of foot or nearest the throne profited most. He did not intend to single out the present administration of the department. It had been true of all administrations; it was a rule of human nature—first come first served. Mr. Burnes then called attention to the number of persons arrested for trivial violations of the internal revenue laws, which called forth the suggestion from Mr. Buchanan (N. J.) that these laws should be repealed.

Mr. Randall (Pa.) said the Committee on Judiciary should frame some sort of amendment to the statute law which would prevent the gross injustice which was done to innocent and inoffensive citizens by trivial prosecutions. The internal revenue laws should be abolished. [Applause.] The time had come when these wrongs should be duly considered.

Mr. Burnes said he would never cease denouncing the horrors and evils perpetrated in the name of law by officers of the law under the Internal-Revenue law. At the same time he wished to say that he would remove the burdens of tariff taxation and reduce taxes on some of the necessaries of life before he would undertake to lessen internal-revenue taxation. [Applause.]

Mr. Burnes said that the Committee on Appropriations had received estimates of appropriations for the completion of public buildings in various parts of the country, which in every case exceeded the limits fixed by law, and he offered an amendment making appropriations for the completion of building at the following named places:

Carson City, Nev., $36,000; Dallas, Tex., $1,000; Denver, Col., $68,000; Aberdeen, Miss., $1,000; Detroit (Mich.) Marine Hospital, $35,000; Fort Wayne, Ind., $16,000; Hannibal, Mo., $8,000; Jackson, Miss., $1,000; Keokuk, Ia., $15,000; Leavenworth, Kan., $2,000; Port Townsend, W. T., $38,000; Shreveport, La., $6,000; Springfield, O., $28,000; St. Joseph, Mo. (strengthening), $9,000; Terre Haute, Ind., $32,000; Toledo, O., $17,000; Columbus, O., $5,000, and Jefferson City, Mo., $5,000.

After a short discussion the amendment was adopted.

An amendment was adopted appropriating $2,474 for the construction of a military telegraph line from San Francisco to Point Reyes.

Pending further action the committee rose and the House adjourned.

SETTLING THE FISHERIES DISPUTE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The Fisheries Commissioners finished their labors last night and signed a treaty in which all concurred. The treaty will be sent to the President today for transmittal to the Senate. Before it can take effect it must have the ratification of the Queen of Great Britain, the Dominion of Canada and the province of Newfoundland, as well as of the Senate of the United States. Although the treaty will not at present be made public it can be said that it relates exclusively to the disputes concerning the fisheries of the north Atlantic coast, and does not include any provisions concerning the Behring sea trouble or commercial reciprocity. The treaty, it may also be added, does not contemplate the admission of fish into the United States free of duty.

INLAND WATERWAYS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The Committee from the Peoria convention appeared before the House Committee on Railroads and Canals yesterday morning and speeches were made by Judge Hurd and Mr. Shorey in support of the pending bill. The delegation urged the importance of making the canal a depth of twenty-two feet, with a view to its navigation by large river and lake craft. It was estimated that a canal of that depth would have a current of two miles an hour, carrying over a half-million cubic feet of water each minute from the lakes into the Mississippi river. The navigation of the Mississippi would be improved as this volume of water poured into it, and it would add one foot to the present depth at the mouth of the Illinois river and six inches at Memphis. The depth of the Illinois river would also be increased about three feet. The delegation argued that with this depth of water the great Mississippi steamers would be able to run from New Orleans to Chicago and other lake ports.

MAY BECOME A LAW.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—One of the ancient propositions which seems likely to become a law at this session, having passed the Senate almost unanimously and Tuesday reported favorably from the House Committee on the Judiciary, is the bill to refund to the several States and Territories all moneys collected under the direct tax levied by Congress in 1861. Under it the State of Illinois will receive $374,000; Indiana, $760,000; Iowa, $88,1,000; Kansas, $71,000; Michigan, $126,000; Minnesota, $92,000; Nebraska, $19,000; Ohio, $1,332,000; Wisconsin, $154,000, and Dakota, $3,241.

A TARIFF BILL AT LAST.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The Tariff bill, as prepared under the personal supervision of Speaker Carlisle by the majority of the Ways and Means Committee, will probably be reported to the full committee this week. The bill is practically completed so far as the majority of the committee is concerned, but there is a certain amount of clerical and printing work yet to be accomplished. It is understood that it reduces the revenue by about $60,000,000—nearly one-half of it by the repeal of the tobacco tax.

AGAINST DIVISION FOR DAKOTA.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—At a meeting of the House Committee on Territories, yesterday, adverse reports were made upon the bills of Messrs. Baker and Gifford, dividing Dakota on an east and west line and admitting the southern half to Statehood. A sub-committee, composed of Messrs. Springer, Mansur, Hay, Symes and Struble, was appointed to draft an omnibus bill, providing for the admission to Statehood of Dakota, Montana, Washington Territory and New Mexico.

THE AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT BILL.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The House Committee on Agriculture has decided to report favorably the Hatch bill to create a new executive department to be known as the Department of Agriculture. The portions relating to a labor bureau in the proposed new department are omitted at the request of the Labor Committee.

CONFIRMED.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The Senate yesterday confirmed the nominations of Marshall C. Donald, Commissioner of Fish and Fisheries; Henry Vincent, of New Orleans, Consul at Lumania; A. H. Dill, United States Marshal for Eastern Pennsylvania.

BARBED-WIRE ROYALTIES.

They Amount to $300,000 Annually, and Manufacturers Object to Paying Them.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 16.—A large number of manufacturers of barbed wire assembled in convention in this city yesterday for the purpose of adjusting, if possible, the royalty claim of Washburn & Moen, owners of the patents. The manufacturers generally refuse to pay this royalty any longer, and an effort is being made to have Washburn & Moen rebate their claim. No understanding has yet been reached. Mr. Washburn declares that the royalty which now nets his firm $300,000 per year will certainly not be relinquished. Manufacturers seem equally determined not to pay it.

Utah Will Not Punish Polygamy.

SALT LAKE CITY, U. T., Feb. 16.—The Judiciary Committee of the lower house of the Legislature yesterday reported adversely the bill introduced by a Gentile member to punish polygamy, and the bill will undoubtedly be rejected. The report is put on the ground that Congress having legislated sufficiently on this question it would be unwise if not incompetent for the Territorial Legislature to enact any laws on the subject.

Victims of the Blizzard.

WATERLOO, Ia., Jan. 16.—The body of an unknown man, apparently 50 years old, was found on the prairie five miles west of Alden. It is thought he perished in the severe storm of January 13.

MORRIS, Minn., Feb. 16.—Mrs. S. Gustafson started from her house to the barn to milk the cows in the storm of Monday night and wandered a mile and a half away through the fields. Her body was found yesterday.

Three Boys Drowned.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 16.—Three boys named Frank Hunter, Harry Brock and William Schumacker, all aged about 12 years, broke through the ice on the river Desperes, in South St. Louis, while skating yesterday, and were drowned. The bodies were recovered.

Buffalo Favors Canal Improvements.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 16.—A meeting of the Buffalo Merchants' Exchange was held at noon yesterday, at which resolutions were adopted strongly favoring a bill appropriating $4,000,000 for canal improvements.

Great Suffering Among Sailors.

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 16.—Reports from points along the Chesapeake bay tell of great suffering of sailors of small vessels, several of which have been crushed in the ice and the crews rescued when nearly frozen to death.

Paper Dealers Fail.

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 16.—John A. Durhane & Co., wholesale paper dealers, yesterday made a deed of trust for the benefit of creditors. Their liabilities are estimated at $200,000, and their assets at half that amount.

A Legal Opinion.

E. Baldridge Munday Esq., County attorney, Clay Co., Tex. says: "Have used Electric Bitters with most happy results. My brother also was very low with Malarial Fever and Jaundice, but was cured by timely use of this medicine. I am satisfied Electric Bitters saved his life."

Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., adds a like testimony, saying: He positively believes he would have died had it not been for Electric Bitters.

DAVID R. LOCKE.

The Famous Author of the "Nasby" Letters Is Dead.

HE PASSES AWAY AT TOLEDO, O.

Consumption the Immediate Cause of His Taking Off—Sketch of the Life of One Whose Pen Gained Him Renown.

"NASBY" AT REST.

TOLEDO, O., Feb. 16.—D. R. Locke, editor of the Blade, of this city, and widely-known as "Petroleum V. Nasby," died at 6:35 o'clock yesterday morning. The immediate cause of his death was consumption of the lungs.

D. R. LOCKE.

[David Ross Locke was born at Vestal, N. Y., September 20, 1833. In 1841 he began to learn the printers' trade at the office of the Courtland (N. Y.) Courier. He worked there seven years, and then wandered around the country, sometimes working at the "case" as a printer and sometimes doing a reporter's work. He started a paper in Plymouth, O., in 1852, known as the Advertiser. Here he remained two years, and in 1856 he founded the Bucyrus Journal. Afterward he was connected with the Mansfield Herald and Findlay Jeffersonian.

His first "Nasby" letter appeared in the Jeffersonian on April 2, 1861. These political satires sprang at once into tremendous popularity. They were copied into newspapers everywhere, quoted in speeches, read around campfires of Union armies, and exercised an enormous influence. Secretary Boutwell, President Lincoln, Charles Sumner and other prominent men considered them of the greatest service to the Union cause, and when Locke raised a company of volunteers in Ohio he was refused a commission on the ground that his pen was of more service to the Union army than his sword could possibly be. He lectured in all the principal cities of the North, and was everywhere greeted with great audiences. He was offered official positions by President Lincoln, and also by President Grant, but steadily declined, as his only ambition was in the journalistic field.

In 1865 he assumed charge of the Toledo Blade, first on a salary, afterward purchasing an interest, and finally the entire control. It had always been his dream to found a great national weekly, which he now carried out. He was one of the founders of the Republican party of Ohio, and the Nasby letters were but part of the powerful work he did in the political field. He was a poet of no mean order, and several of his devotional poems can be found in church hymnals. He wrote several plays and did a vast amount of other literary work. His literary labors and newspaper were very profitable, and in his latter years he was largely interested in building and manufacturing in Toledo. His fortune is estimated at a million, exclusive of the Blade. He was married while at Plymouth to Miss Martha Hadley, who, with their three sons—all grown to manhood—survive him. His death was caused by consumption, which was hereditary on his mother's side. His father, N. R. Locke, a veteran of the war of 1812, is still living in Toledo at the advanced age of 94. The father was one of the original anti-slavery men of the country.]

CONKLING ON BLAINE.

The Ex-Senator Inclined to Treat the Distinguished Tourist's Latest Letter in a Sarcastic Vein.

ALBANY, N.Y., Feb. 16.—A special from New York to the Press and Knickerbocker says: Ex-Senator Conkling is writing a letter, it is said, in reply to an envelope from Chairman Jones, of the Republican National Committee, simply inclosing the Blaine letter of withdrawal, and on the margin the words in lead pencil: "Watchman, what of the night?" In his letter Conkling rehearses the history of the Republican party up to the time of his retirement, and incidentally discusses the questions of finance and diplomacy in their comparative relations to the two great parties. He devotes but a short page to the Blaine letter, which really has called forth this correspondence. The reference to the Blaine letter is substantially as follows:

"I have read your inclosure and indulged in a modicum of reflection, the result of which I have incorporated in this nasty letter, which, I fear, is faulty, perhaps, in that it combines the oddities and rough edges that are only overcome by scrutiny and review. I have not the time for this. The letter of the gentleman from abroad is clear, as it kindly informs his countrymen that he has not wholly forgotten them amid the delights of European travel. It also paves the way for the National convention, enabling it, if it see fit, to select a standard-bearer other than himself without appearing to act discourteously. Still the field of politics and letter-writing is wide and invites to some, and to fashion a letter of the Florence character is not reprehensible."

As Bad as Chicago.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—For several weeks this city has been overrun with thieves of every description. It is literally at the mercy of a well-organized gang. Within three weeks there have been not less than seventy-five burglaries and robberies, mainly in the western addition, where the cracksmen have things their own way. Among the citizens who have been made victims of the gang is Chief-of-Police Crowley, from whose residence $1,500 worth of jewelry was taken.

Governor Rusk Going South.

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 16.—Governor Rusk has so far recovered from his six weeks' illness as to be able to start to-day for the South. The Governor's stomach difficulty has been entirely removed, but it is necessary that he should have a few weeks in which to rest and revive his strength. He will visit Atlanta and several Southern battle-fields.

A Million for a University.

VIENNA, Feb. 16.—Mr. Lawton, the United States Minister here, has accepted from Harry Farber, a rich American relative of President Cleveland, who is studying law at the Vienna University, the offer of $1,000,000 to the American Government with which to endow a university at Chicago on the Vienna model.

Failure in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 16.—The old manufactory known as the P. J. Marque Manufacturing Company, engaged in making baby carriages, made an assignment yesterday to Howard Douglass. The liabilities are estimated at $65,000; assets nominally $85,000, but will probably not realize more than $55,000.

The Crown Prince Restless.

LONDON, Feb. 16.—A dispatch from San Remo says: The German Crown Prince passed another restless night. He has a headache but otherwise his condition is favorable. Dr. Mackenzie, who intended leaving San Remo yesterday for London, will delay his departure.

Mr. Pyne Gets Three Months.

DUBLIN, Feb. 16.—Mr. Pyne, member of Parliament for West Waterford, was tried yesterday on the charge of inciting resistance to bailiffs. He was convicted and sentenced to three months' imprisonment, without hard labor.

An Extraordinary Phenomenon.

No other term than the above would apply to the woman who could see her youthful fading away without a pang of regret. Many a woman becomes prematurely old and haggard because of functional derangement. What a pity that all such do not know that Dr. Pierce's favorite Prescription will restore their organs to a normal state and make them youthful and beautiful once more! For the ills to which the daughters of Eve are peculiarly liable the "Prescription" is a sovereign remedy. It is the only medicine sold by druggists under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be returned. See guarantee on bottle wrapper.

The breath of a chronic catarrh patient is often so offensive that he becomes an object of disgust. After a time ulceration sets in, the spongy bones are attacked, and frequently destroyed. A constant source of discomfort is the dripping of the purulent secretions into the throat, sometimes producing inveterate bronchitis, which in its turn has been the exciting cause of pulmonary disease. The brilliant results which have attended its use for years past properly designate Ely's Cream Balm as by far the best and only cure

TO SHIP CATTLE BY EXPRESS.

Details of a Scheme Which Will Soon Be Put Into Operation.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 16.—The announcement is made that a new enterprise has been established in connection with the cattle trade, to be known as the American Live-Stock Express Company, with headquarters in New York. The object is to transport cattle rapidly by express, and suitable cars will be constructed. It is expected the plan will be in operation by March 1. For the present the company will confine its operations to through stock, running from Chicago to Hoboken over the Grand Trunk and Delaware, Lackawanna & Western roads. Contracts have been made to leave Chicago Monday afternoon and arrive in Hoboken ready for market Wednesday morning. Another train will leave Chicago Wednesday afternoon and be in Jersey City market Friday morning. The trip will occupy forty hours, including a half-hour stop in Buffalo for water. The next move will be to run live-stock express trains to Buffalo and other trading centers. The company's plans are said to be so thoroughly systematized that shippers and railroads will be compelled to put the business into their hands.

WITHOUT FOOD OR SHELTER.

Striking Cigarmakers Evicted for Non-Payment of Rent.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—The striking cigarmakers of Jacoby & Bookman's factory at East Thirty-Eighth street and First avenue, who occupy the firm's tenement buildings at Nos. 336, 338 and 340 East Thirty-eighth street, adjoining the factory, were evicted Tuesday for non-payment of rent. The evicted numbered 160. They were mostly Bohemians. The firm reduced the wages of the hands, and this they would not submit to. They lived in tenements owned by the firm. They struck and then called on the Cigarmakers' International Union to help them. The union responded nobly. The evicted families are not without food and shelter.

The New Wine and Spirit Trust.

BOSTON, Feb. 16.—It is learned that the new wine and spirit trust which has just been formed in the West is entirely distinct from any whisky trust. Seventy of the seventy-two distillers of high proof spirits and alcohol in the United States are combined in the trust. The trust leases all real estate for twenty-five years and pays 6 per cent. upon the appraised value to the distillery company holding it. Then it takes in the distillery plants and issues script for it. It issues $30,000,000 par value of stock divided into 100 share certificates and pays monthly dividends. It is expected that the trust will pay 8 to 10 per cent. upon the capital.

Went Through a Bridge.

GALENA, Ill., Feb. 16.—A freight train on the Chicago, St. Paul & Kansas City railroad struck the bridge at Apple River crossing, near this city, yesterday morning, with one of the cars off the track. The car broke through the bridge, taking five others with it, and Barney Donnelly, of Galena, who was on one of the cars, was killed. There were several workmen on the caboose and rear cars, which escaped going down by the couplings breaking. The bridge, which cost $36,000, is a total loss.

Fell Into Boiling Water.

BLACK RIVER FALLS, Wis., Feb. 16.—A distressing accident occurred yesterday at Ulrich Oderbolz's brewery. His son Charles, a young man about 21 years of age, was drawing a pail of water from a large vat of boiling hot water when he fell head first into the vat. By almost superhuman efforts he climbed from the vat without assistance, but was so horribly scalded that his recovery is impossible.

Benson to Be Sent to Mexico.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Charles Benson, who victimized the Mexican people by selling bogus tickets to the Patti concerts, and who has been on trial here before United States Commissioner Lyman, was yesterday morning placed in jail, and will be bound over to the Mexican authorities, unless Benson's counsel can succeed in having the extradition proceedings reviewed by the United States Circuit Court.

Killing Rabbits by the Thousand.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—A hunter who has come in from Bakersfield, in Kern County, reports the last jack-rabbit or hare drive there as a wholesale slaughter. About 200 people participated, and, securing the plains, gradually drove the rabbits into a triangular corral, the dead-fall being at the apex of the triangle. There were two round-ups, with 6,000 rabbits killed.

O'Grady Bennett's Luck.

ASHLAND, Wis., Feb. 16.—Samuel O'Grady Bennett, aged 70, an eccentric individual, who has resided in this vicinity for years, has just received advices that he has fallen heir to £125,000 by the death of relatives in the county of Limerick, Ireland. He will leave for the old country in the spring to claim his fortune.

Two Ways. Choose Which!

There are two usual ways of doing what nature sometimes does incompletely, namely, to relieve the bowels. One is to swallow a drastic purgative which evacuates profusely, abruptly and with pain, the other is to take Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the effect of which is not violent, but sufficiently thorough, and which does not gripe the intestines. If the first is selected, the person employing it need not expect permanent benefit, and he cannot hope to escape the debilitating reaction which leaves the organs as bad or worse off than before. If, on the other hand, he resorts to the Bitters, he can rely upon the restoration of a regular habit of body consequent upon a renewal of a healthful tone in the intestinal canal. Besides healthfully relaxing the bowels, the Bitters arouses a dormant liver, imparts a beneficial impetus to the action of the kidneys, and counteracts the early twinings of rheumatism, a tendency to gout, and malaria in all forms.

Babies that are fretful, peevish, cross, or troubled with Windy Colic, Teething Pains, or Stomach Disorders, can be relieved at once by using Acker's Baby Soother. It contains no Opium or Morphine, hence is safe. Price 25 cents. Sold by

How Men Die

If we knew all the methods of approach adopted by an enemy we are the better enabled to ward off the danger and postpone the moment when surrender becomes inevitable. In many instances the inherent strength of the body suffices to enable it to oppose the tendency toward death. Many, however, have lost these forces to such an extent that there is little or no help. In other cases a little aid to the weakened lungs will make all the difference between sudden death and many years of useful life. Upon the first symptoms of a cough, cold or any trouble of the throat or lungs, give the old and well-known remedy—Boschee's German Syrup, a careful trial. It will prove what thousands say of it to be, the "benefactor of any home."

BRODHEAD.

—The charity ball given by the ladies of the Relief Corps, Monday evening passed off very pleasantly in all respects. A DAMAGED JAIL.

William Arkeson Tries To Follow the Example Set by Jack Hess.

Watchful Officers Cause the Attempt to Fail.—Fourth in Two Months.

It leaked out to-day that a determined effort to break jail was made by Sheriff Ward's prisoners Monday night.

The attempt was undoubtedly made for the benefit of William Arkeson, who is likely to go to Waupun on a charge of highway robbery, having "held up" a stranger in the fourth ward a few weeks ago to the tune of about sixteen dollars

The plan was discovered about nine o'clock Monday night. Turnkey Ross went inside the "cage" at that hour to lock the prisoners in their cells for the night; and noticed that the floor at the west end was covered with water.

An investigation was at once made. Around the stone whose removal had furnished a passageway for Jack Hess, the mortar had been nearly all dug away. With comparatively little work the stone could have been removed entirely.

An iron bath tub stands close to the spot where the work was done. This had been filled with water and had served as a tank, by the aid of which the plaster could be kept moist. The tools used were a long iron poker and the pump handle that served as a crow bar for Hess.

As soon as Turnkey Ross saw what had been done he went through the cells, singling out those who seemed likely to have had "a finger in the pie." Louis O'Rourke, John Griffin and John Dougherty were found with wet feet and clothes covered with mortar, and were promptly locked up in the "dungeon." Arkeson, who was the only man in the jail whose probable length of sentence made escape desirable, had been locked up already.

The attempt was the fourth since December 2d.

First came that of Jack Hess. The wall had hardly been patched up after Hess' escape when Richard Cronan alias Richard VanArken was arrested for burglarizing the Hanover railroad depot Cronan seemed well satisfied at first; but when a St. Paul officer came down and identified him as the man who had stolen $1,600 worth of tickets and express packages from a depot in Minnesota he became uneasy, and on the night of December 10th he tried to follow the example that Hess had so recently set. He was discovered, but went at it again two nights later and left marks very much like those found Tuesday. His efforts were finally rewarded by a trip to Waupun.

After each attempt the jail precautions have been redoubled, but apparently with little effect. Monday night's job was done in the three hours between supper time and nine o'clock. It is averred that the mortar in the jail walls is of such consistency that nothing is needed to remove it but a white pine shingle. If this is true the county board should certainly take action in it without delay.

—There is some talk of a syndicate forming on the "joint stock" plan for the purpose of building a new hall for the accommodation of the Janesville Concordia Society.

—Isn't it about time to re-varnish the joke on house-cleaning and moving? The first mover with his drayful of furniture and carpets has been seen in the land.

—Rockford is mourning over the loss of her factories, the latest to make preparations for removal being the Rockford Cutlery Company, which will probably go to Keokuk, Iowa.

—Mrs. A. W. Baldwin and daughter, Miss May C. Baldwin, of the third ward, have returned to this city after an extended visit among relatives and friends in Chicago and Milwaukee.

—Masonic hall was the scene of a pleasant social dancing party last evening, it being one of the series of parties given for the benefit of members of the order, their families and invited friends. Smith's orchestra furnished the music.

—Valentine's day brought out the fact that a good many people still neglect putting two cent stamps on drop letters. Circulars or printed matter when left unsealed can go for one cent but if sealed the two cent rate must be paid.

—Men have been at work ever since nine o'clock last night thawing out the drip box underneath the East Milwaukee street gas main. Enough hot water has been poured in to float a fair sized row-boat.

—The indications are that an unusual number of new buildings, especially residences, will be erected in Janesville the coming season. A number of our citizens are already getting ready to build as soon as the season will permit.

—The ladies of the First Methodist church will furnish a supper Friday evening February 17, at the home of Mrs. Ed. Bennett, No. 10, Park Avenue. Supper will be served from 5:30 to 8 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

—Fond du Lac Commonwealth: Frank L. Barrows, who was in the employ of the Nanaimo Mining Company and McDonald Manufacturing Company, in this city, made old friends here a flying visit last night. He is still in the iron business, and is now rebuilding the furnace at Mayville.

—"Uncle Sam's Domains, the Country we Live In," being the fourth of the series of fine art entertainments given by the Noyes Brothers at Cannon's hall, drew a very good-sized audience last evening. All were well pleased with the views. The entertainments have proved very instructive and entertaining.

—Whatever measures of municipal reform are desired by the citizens of the city can be accomplished by working through the proper channels. It is requisite to elect men to the council who are in sympathy with these measures. To do this it is necessary to attend the caucuses and see that the proper men are nominated. If people are not willing to do this there is no good ground to kick against the nominees and afterward to upbraid the administration.

—The social rooms of Court Street church were filled last evening, and the supper served from 5:30 to 7:30 was creditable to the ladies and satisfactory to the guests. Nearly one hundred and fifty plates, at fifteen cents each, insured the financial success of the enterprise; while the young ladies contributed liberally from a candy stand of home production. Sociability was not lacking, and the occasion was one of pleasure as well as profit. The society will give another supper the third Wednesday in March.

THAT FUNNY MAN.

The Junior Literary Club Consider Oliver Wendell Holmes.

Miss Lettie Shortney entertained the Junior Literary Club last evening at her home on River street, first ward. The attendance was small and hence the programme was unusually short. Two well written essays on Oliver Wendell Holmes and his works were read by Lou Carpenter and Bert Beers. Nelly Blakely read the poem "Aunt Tabitha," and extracts from Rip Van Winkle, M. D., were read by Ray Stevens.

Next, each one adorned (?) a tailless donkey with that useful member, the tail. Miss Rose Webster captured the prize, while Bert Beers and Marion Wiggin each rejoiced in a booby prize.

A feature of the evening was the drawing of valentines, each having a sentiment on it, from Holmes. Many showed no little degree of artistic skill. Prof. Parker, although he is not a smoker, seemed very well pleased with his, which was a clay pipe dressed in tissue paper, accompanied by an appropriate verse. The refreshments occupied the company for some time afterwards. Social games filled up the time until the usual hour of closing.

BURDETTE'S FABLES.

A citizen who was brought into court for having Neglected to keep his sidewalk clear of Snow complained to His Honor:

"Owing to illness I have failed to comply with the Ordinance, and I hope you will Overlook the matter this time.";

"Very Grievous Offense sir. Fine you $5, sir!" replied the Judge.

"But here are 1,200 SaloonKeepers engaged in Defying not only a City Ordinance but a State Law almost every hour in the twenty-four!" protested the Victim.

"Exactly, sir; but I want you to Understand that there is a Difference—a very great Difference between Snow and Lager Beer. I shall increase your fine to $10.

Moral: Have less Snow and More Lager.

CHANGES IN THE FREE DELIVERY.

Commencing with Monday, February 20th, there will be three deliveries of mail by carrier each day. The first, at seven o'clock a. m., will be a delivery of first class mail (letters and postal cards) only, to all within the free delivery district. The second at two o'clock p. m., and will be a complete delivery of all mail matter to all within the free delivery district. The third will be at six o'clock p. m., first class matter only, and restricted to the business houses.

It is hoped that all business houses will provide slits in the door large enough to admit letters so that the mail may be left if the door shall be locked, as unless so provided the mail will be returned to the office and held until the next regular delivery.

A MILWAUKEE VICTORY.

Uncle Sam Contracts With James Morgan for National Home Supplies

Word was received in Milwaukee late last week that General Franklin, president of the National Homes board of directors, had contracted with James Morgan, the well-known Milwaukee merchant, for 82,000 yards of sheeting linen for the various National Homes in the country. In view of the fact that Mr. Morgan won the victory in an open competition with the merchants of the whole Union, his friends are given ample reason for their congratulations.—Milwaukee Sunday Telegraph, Feb. 12.

NEW WEATHER.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 10 degrees above zero. Clear with south wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 35 degrees above zero. Clear with south wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 12 and 30 degrees above zero.

It is said that a great many Englishmen are visiting this country this season. I asked Jinks what they came for. He said he supposed "to marry soft-pated, millionaire women, to talk the fellows out of their money, who want to be fooled, and to lay in a supply of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup."

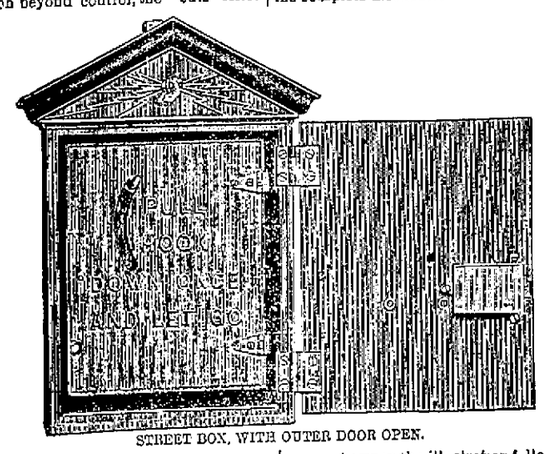
THE FIRE ALARM SYSTEM.

Illustrations of Some of the Most Important Machinery of Our Fire Alarm.

The Interior of the Boxes—The Indicators, and the Bell Striker.

To many people in Janesville the fire alarm system is a new thing, and very few have an idea of the machinery connected with a first class alarm, or the manner of its working. For the purpose of better informing the readers, the Gazette, some time ago, made arrangements to illustrate the system as soon as the same was completed, but for some reason beyond control, the "cuts" failed to arrive in time for publication. The illustrations have at last been received. The first successful fire alarm telegraph was put in operation in Boston in June, 1851. This was the invention of Dr. Wm. F. Channing, of Boston, and G. Farmer, of Salem, Mass. This was, as a matter of fact, a very crude system, especially when compared with the system of the present day, yet it worked to the entire satisfaction of the city authorities of Boston.

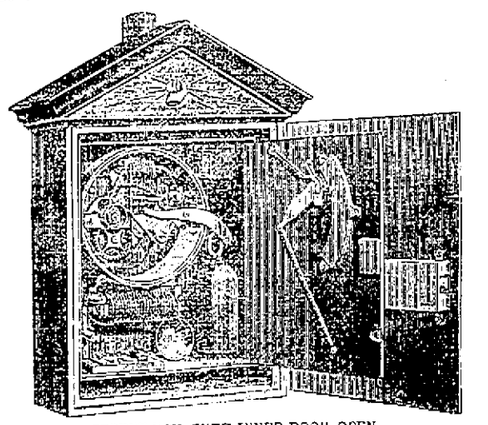


STREET BOX, WITH OUTER DOOR OPEN.

In the year 1855, Messrs. Gamewell & Co. became the proprietors of the Channing and Farmer patents; the system was from time to time greatly improved and finally perfected. Large cities were quick to adopt it on the introduction of the steam fire engine. Smaller cities, owing to the cost of the system, were slower to invest, yet as the Gamewell company improved their machinery, the price at the close of the war being reduced, smaller cities began to adopt it. Finally other patents were issued, and there was considerable competition in the business, and prices were reduced accordingly, until now an alarm box can be purchased at almost any price (according to make) from five to one hundred and twenty-five dollars each. There are but two or three alarm systems which are considered first class in the country, and of these systems the Gamewell is placed first, and of course is a little more expensive. But to the illustrations:—

The Janesville fire alarm system consists of a central battery station of between thirty-five and forty cells of what is known as the "gravity," or sulphate-of-copper battery—sometimes called the Baltimore battery the same as used by telegraph companies. This is one of the simplest in form, and any person of ordinary intelligence can take charge of it.

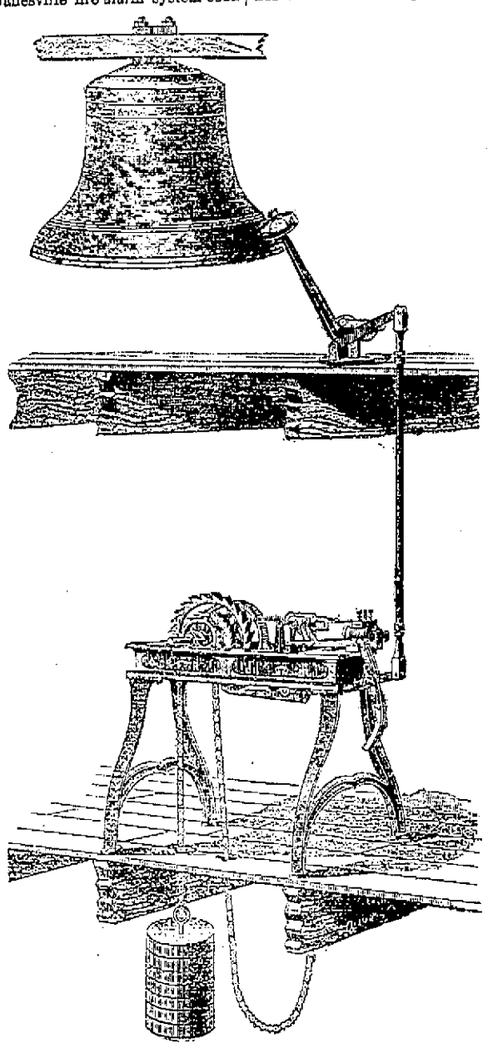
Attached to this battery is what is called a metallic wire circuit, consisting of about eight miles of No. 12 hard drawn copper wire, which is in one circuit, resting on poles, above all telephone and electric light wires. On this wire the alarm boxes or stations are located. We have an illustration of these boxes, as they appear closed, but as it is at this time of trifling importance, we omit producing it. Our first illustration represents an alarm box with the outside door open, showing plainly the directions for sending the alarm. It also shows the trap-lock, which holds fast the key inserted by the sender of the alarm. This can only be released by the chief engineer or one of his assistants. The general public cannot open the box further, but the chief, his assistants, and the person having charge of the line, possess additional keys, which enable them to open the inner door of the box, which reveals the complete mechanism of the machinery as shown in the illustration following. This is what the Gamewell company call their Sector box. It differs from the other styles of boxes in that it runs by weight instead of spring—the "pull the hook down once and let go" winding up the box, as will be seen by careful examination of the illustration. Other boxes are wound up in the same manner as a clock. At the bottom of the box will be seen the little alarm bell which is sounded whenever an alarm is sent in from its own or any other box on the line, and can be heard by any one standing near the same. The chief engineer's signal key is also shown. Any alarm can be sounded by persons having access to this key.



STREET BOX, WITH INNER DOOR OPEN.

The next piece of machinery of importance is the bell striker, which is located in the tower at the west side house. This is a very fine piece of machinery, yet it is very plain and simple after a person gives it a little examination. This can be attached to any bell, as shown in the illustration. In many cities a large steam whistle is used for fire alarm purposes in place of a bell, and the bell striker is attached to the whistle by the same lever that rings the bell. The illustration given herewith is a correct one, and needs but little if any explanation, as its working parts are plainly seen. The alarm box releases the magnet, which is seen on the corner of the frame by the lever running to the bell hammer. This magnet released, the power of the battery. There are also other little keys connected with the battery station, but these are of no particular importance to the general public.

In each engine house is a large gong and indicator, which registers with perfect accuracy, the number of the box from whence an alarm is sent. This is a complicated piece of machinery, yet it is well made, and with careful usage will last many years. An illustration of this indicator will appear to-morrow evening, it being too large to show to good advantage with the other illustrations.



BELL STRIKER.

THE DOOR CAME OPEN.

And John Henry Remembers Coming With It.

There is a young professional man on the west side whom we will call John Henry and who has been bothered of late by the habit people have of coming into his office and leaving the door open behind them.

Yesterday morning the victim decided to put a stop to the business, so he went down to Ashcraft's furniture store in search of a door spring. His eye happened to fall on one of the heavy spiral, used on patent rockers.

"There," remarked he, "that ought to fill the bill precisely."

"Yes" responded the clerk, a trifle surprised, "that spring is really the strongest we have. It is cast steel, one-fourth of an inch thick and is tempered by the Herkimer process. We warrant it to move three thousand pounds."

The spring was bought, and on the way back to the office John Henry met his errand boy, a simple German youth by the name of Adolph.

"Here, Adolph," he said, "take this spring and put it on the inside of the door of my office. Put it on good and strong now, so that the door will shut of its own accord."

"Yaw," said Adolph with the intelligent stare of a hopeless idiot.

Adolph took the spring and proceeded to fasten it on the outside of the door instead of the inside. The job busied him about an hour. Meanwhile all recollection of errand boy and spring alike had vanished from John Henry's mind.

Along toward eleven o'clock the young man bethought himself of an engagement with a friend in the next building, so he slipped into his overcoat, donned his cap and started for the friends office. But no sooner did he lay hands on the door knob than the door flew open. It flew open with such amazing velocity that John Henry had no time to appreciate what was happening or to realize what was going to happen. He only had a confused recollection of being drawn out of his office by some super-human power, of being hurled through space with the speed of a comet, of rolling down a long flight of stairs, of being left in the position of the dying gladiator on the opposite side of Milwaukee street. It was feared at first that several ribs had been fractured and that one or two curiously shaped kinks had been put in the spinal column but these fears proved to be groundless.

Within a few moments John Henry came to. He arose with much difficulty and made his way back to the office, where he inspected carefully but reverentially the spring upon the door. It had worked with such force as to bury the door knob three inches in the ball plastering.

"Take it off, Adolph," he said feebly. "Take it off and put it on the other side. As for you, I will settle my account with you later."

The correct way is to buy goods from the manufacturer when possible. The Elkhart Carriage and Harness Co. of Elkhart, Indiana, have no agents. They make first class goods, ship anywhere, privilege to examine. See advertisement.

A SCOTTISH CONCERT.

Janesville's Caledonian Society Preparing a Rare Treat.

The readers of the Gazette will be pleased to learn that the Caledonian Society has made arrangements for a concert to be given at Myers opera house on Friday evening, March 9th. The celebrated Bairnsfather family have been engaged for the occasion. This noted family are the most artistic delineators of Scottish song and story that have ever visited America. In fact they are the only family of Scotch vocalists living. The father and four children comprise the family. Mr. Bairnsfather is a whole troupe in himself as the following flattering testimonial indicate:

Mr. Bairnsfather has an excellent voice, and sang with feeling and power. Both as a singer and teller of Scotch stories it is hardly going too far to say he is fully equal to the famous Kennedy. Indeed, in some respects he is even superior. Etta Bairnsfather has a singularly pure and sweet soprano voice.—Toronto Globe.

THE CITY HOSPITAL.

It Was Formally Opened at Ten O'clock this Morning—Liberal Donations.

Six Rooms Furnished Complete by Private Subscription.

The Janesville city hospital was formally opened as announced at 10 o'clock this morning. All the ladies of the board of directors being present as well as a number of the gentlemen. The house contains eighteen rooms and is admirably adapted to hospital purposes. A large hall in the center with double parlors, dining rooms and kitchens on either side give ample room on the first floor, while the second contains eight good rooms divided by a spacious hall, with two or three rooms in the attic. A cellar under the whole house furnishes plenty of room for fuel and supplies. At noon one of the parlors was appropriated as a dining room where a tempting table was spread, and a substantial dinner served by the ladies of the board to some twenty or more visitors, who were present. Donations of furniture, bedding, stoves, dishes and other useful articles have been coming in all day, while numerous pictures add to the cheerfulness of the place. Among the rooms selected for furnishing is one each by the following societies: Christ church, the Presbyterian church, the Congregational church, the employes of the C. & N. W. railway, the boys of the Telegraph school, while Mrs. John Winans will also furnish a room throughout.

A suite of rooms back and to the left of the hall has been appropriated for surgical cases and will be thoroughly furnished with every convenience by the board, under the direction of the medical staff.

The house, taken as a whole, could hardly be improved for hospital purposes, and the enthusiasm and interest manifest on the opening day, indicates that the board acted wisely in making their selection. Not a word of criticism was offered and the only rivalry apparent was along the line of substantial giving. That the house will be amply furnished is no longer a question of doubt. The management will endeavor to so conduct the enterprise that the maintenance will be equally assured.

Some uneasiness is felt in the immediate vicinity of the hospital, the property owners regarding it as undesirable and likely to make that part of the city unpopular. This feeling is entirely unfounded, as the rules of the institution bar all contagious diseases, and while its doors will be open to all classes of patients when properly recommended, the management hope to secure a liberal paid patronage. There is no reason why this can not be done in Janesville, as in other cities Hospital care, when properly furnished, means the best care. Nothing short of this will satisfy the demands of the new city hospital.

The institution should be recognized as a blessing to the city and so conducted as to be beyond criticism.

A list of donations will be entered upon the books by the secretary, and the various unsupplied wants announced from time to time through the columns of the daily papers. A committe of ladies will call upon our citizens in the near future soliciting subscriptions for membership. The certificates are ten dollars each, and the amount may be paid in installments.

Rockford secured sixteen hundred names at $10 each to found and build her hospital. One-third of this number at the same rate would accomplish a similar result in Janesville.

Give the ladies a cordial reception when they call and let the same generous spirit which has characterized the opening, prevail until the Janesville city hospital is thoroughly equipped and endowed in keeping with the spirit of philanthropy which set the ball in motion.
